

Full quality of life

A new concept: Based on use of the coenzyme S.AdénosylMéthionine and adaptogen plants' extracts.

Full quality of life

A future in which it would be more comfortable to grow old.

Imagine a future in which you age, but without the health issues your parents got. At IDEC we design nutritional complements that prevent and reduce diseases during aging.

Universal pharmacopoeia is designed to lengthen healthspan, the amount of time you live in good health. Our concept of universal pharmacopoeia is an amazing source of new health solutions and innovations because of the use of a mix of universal medical traditions used since millennia.

IDEC is repositioning this concept to curb cellular aging with a mix of S-Adenosyl Methionine and adaptogen plants' extracts to respect our cellular capital, our DNA and our telomers.
